

You'd Better Read Me News

November 2022

This November ATX news letter will be brief...with just the facts!

“THESE are the times that try men’s souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands by it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. “

No, we were not able to summon Thomas Paine!

This coming Saturday, November 19, our speaker will be Steven Petrow.

Steven is an award-winning journalist and book author who is best known for his Washington Post and New York Times essays on aging, health, and civility. He’s also an opinion columnist for USA Today, where he writes about civil discourse and manners.

Steven’s latest book, Stupid Things I Won’t Do When I Get Old, was published in 2021 and named as one of the New York Times’ “favorite” books of the year. Reading it was enlightening and fun!

We managed to strike up a conversation with Steven, and yes, he agreed to present for the ATX.

Talk about timing...!

Be sure to sign in and attend this Saturday’s ATX meeting, same time, same station.
